Reclaimed Oak Cotswolds

Old Reclaimed Wood Collection

Genuine Reclaimed Wood

Heywood also offers a beautiful program of 2-layer engineered genuine old reclaimed oak and Elm. Also in solid reclaimed Barnwood and reclaimed 3D Teak wall panels (Northern Light Hardwoods).

The reclaimed wood is classified in either 200+ years old, or +/- 80 years old. All with lovely powerful natural colour variations and a patina of untreated wood which has been weathered and dried by centuries of exposure to the harshness of the elements. This rare but very fashionable genuine reclaimed wood has its own audience and is extremely well suited for unique high-end wooden floor applications and trendy wall and ceiling panels. It fits a designers niche amongst architects and other connoisseurs. All our Reclaimed Wood Products have square edges on 4-sides as a standard.

Reclaimed wood 'outside'

'Outside surface' is the original rough textured outside of our 2 Reclaimed Oak Classifications. The 200+ years old 'outside' oak comes in a mix of mostly warm browns and some greys, from light to dark with a stronger character than new oak. This 200+ year old oak features some stunning natural dark cracks and nail holes and a stable colour patina which cannot be influenced by UV-light anymore. The 'outside' of the 80 years old reclaimed oak is usually more brown/greyish in colour. The 'outside' oak can be installed untreated and doesn't require further maintenance.

Reclaimed wood 'inside'

The 'Inside surface' is the smooth, sanded and brushed inside of both wood classifications and more light coloured. 200+ years old 'Inside Oak' comes in a mix of mature golden browns with dark cracks and nailholes. Our +/- 80 years old oak 'Inside' has mixed medium browns with some dark cracks and holes. The 'Inside' surface needs to be oiled and maintained.

For Reclaimed Outsides/Insides: Size and colour variations subject to delivery.
